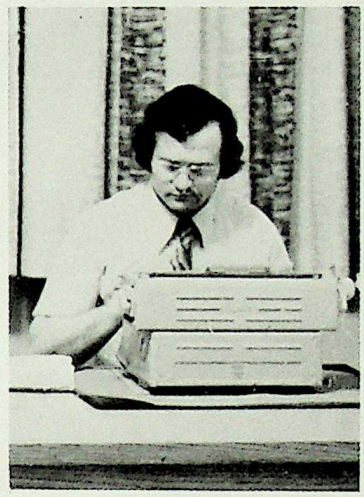
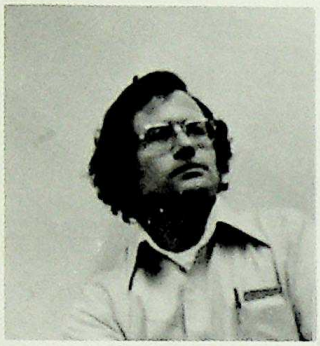
ALBERTA SCHOOL
FOR THE DEAF





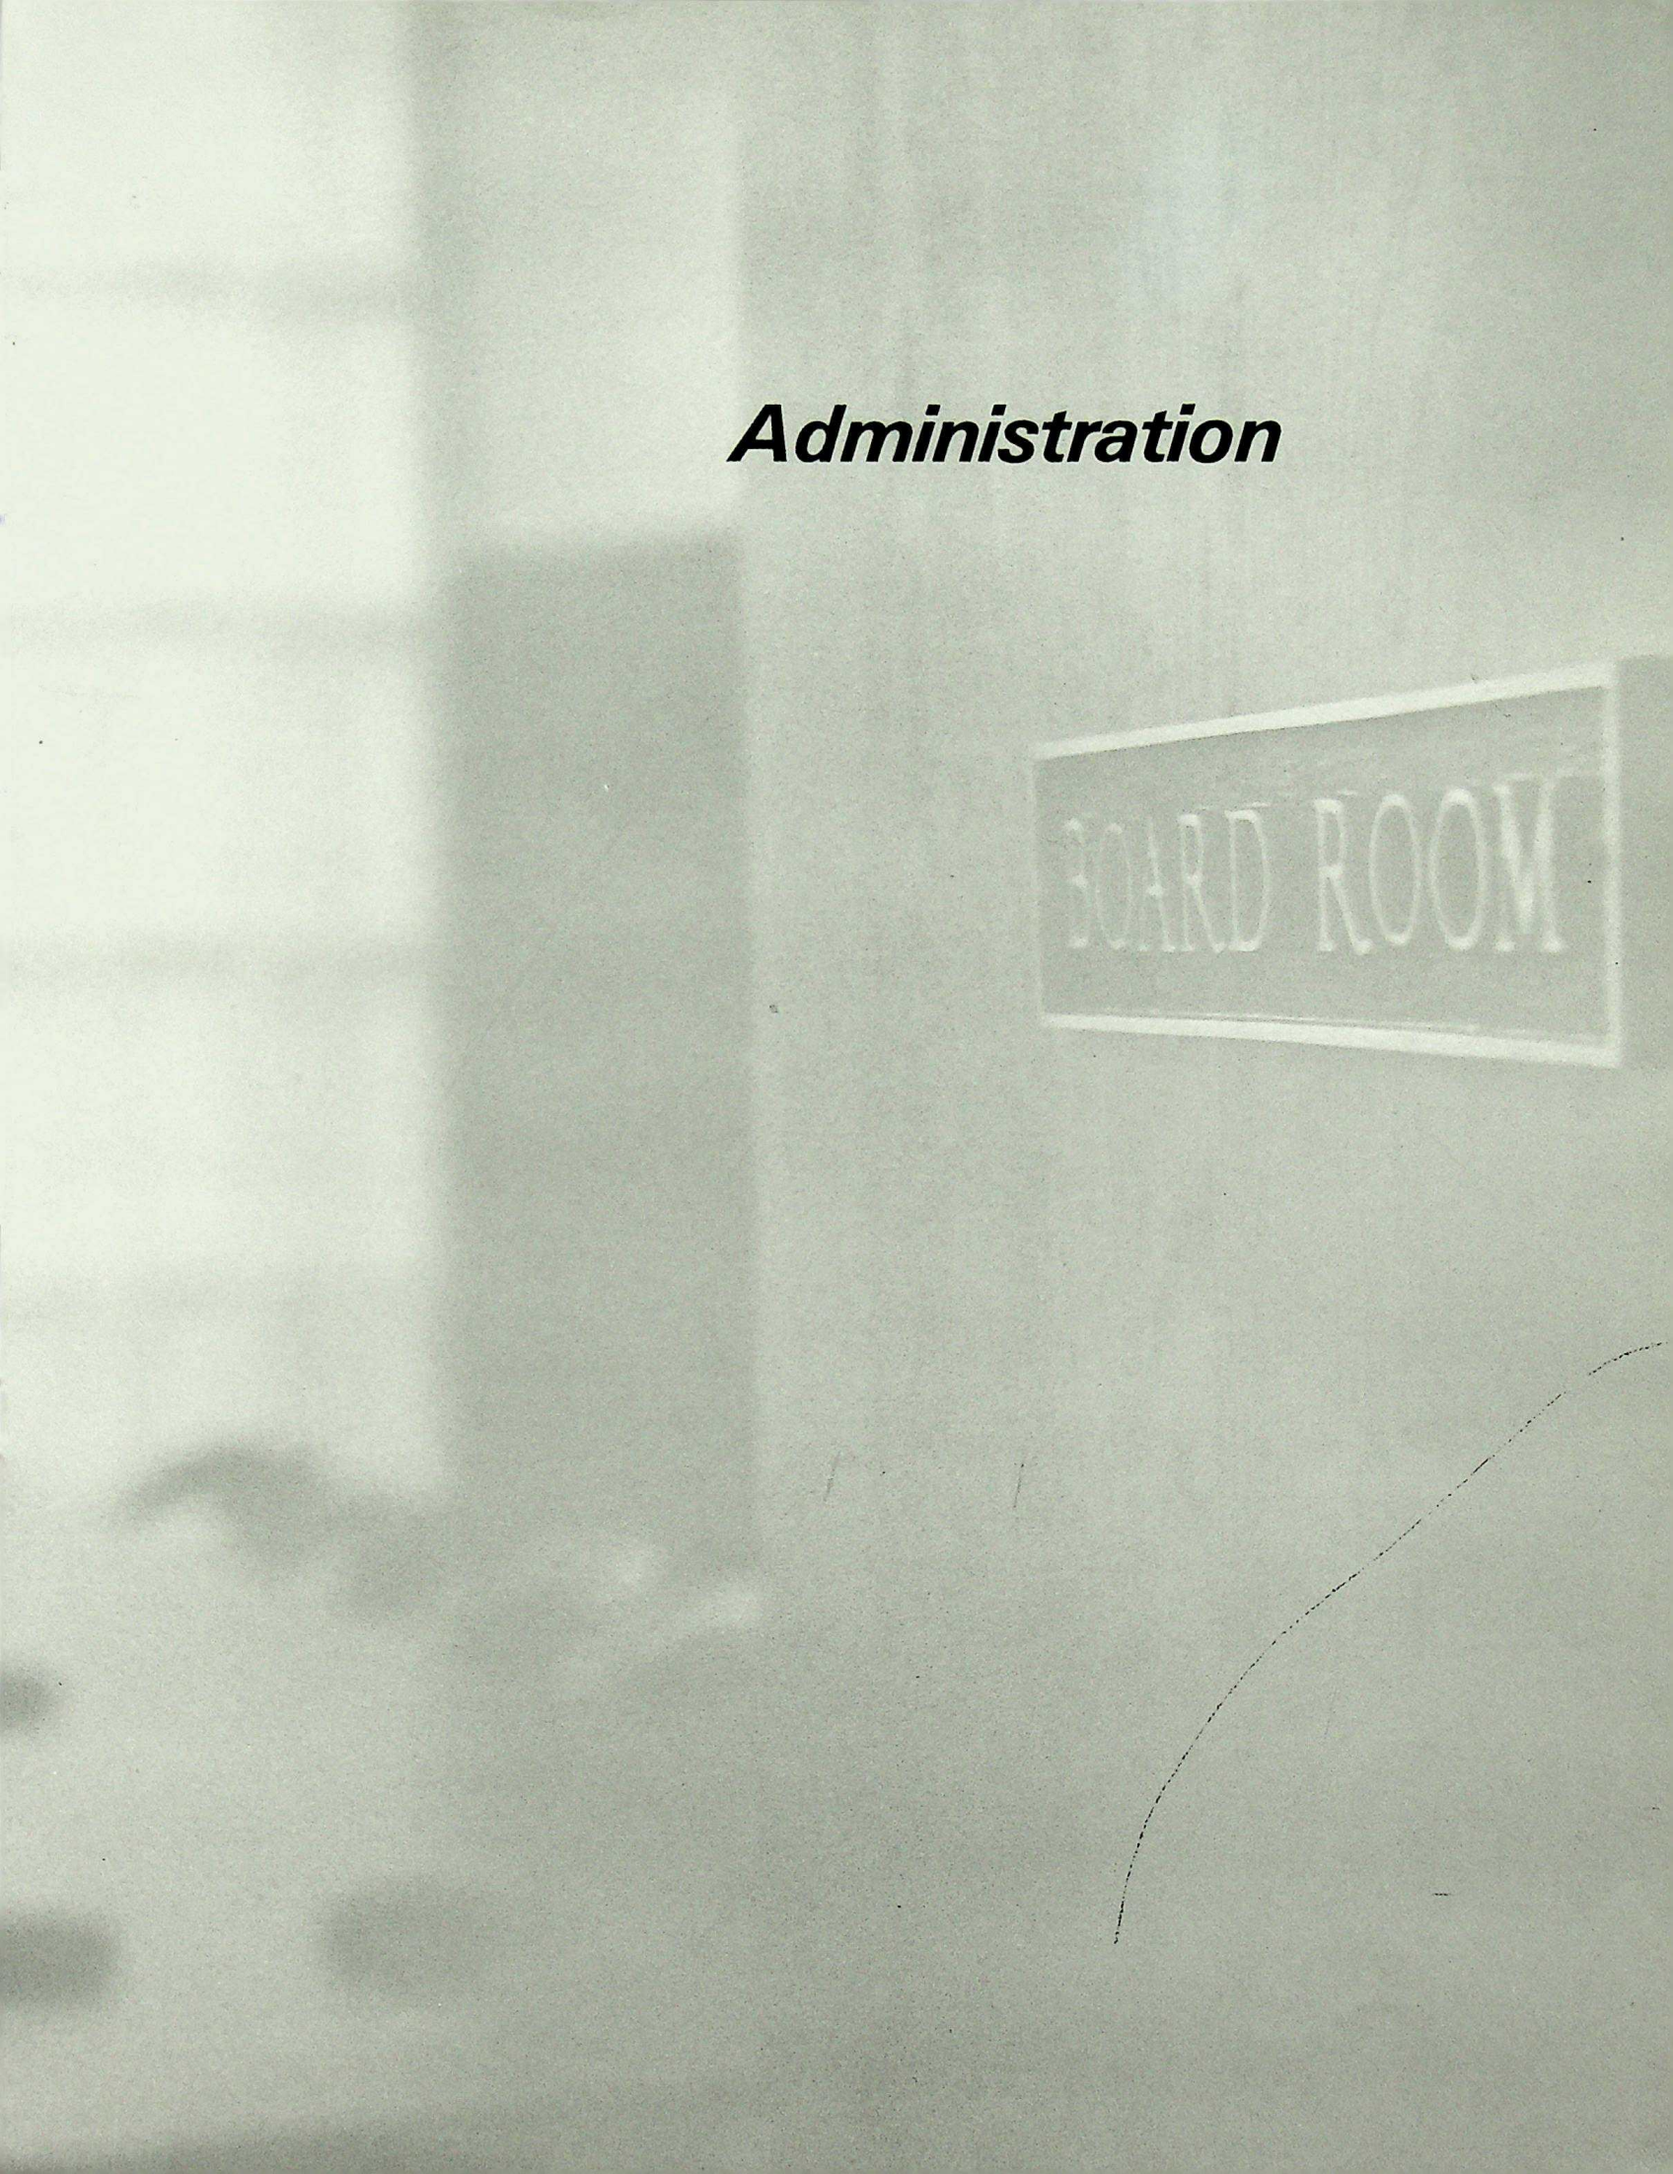
MR. MACKLIN YOUNGS

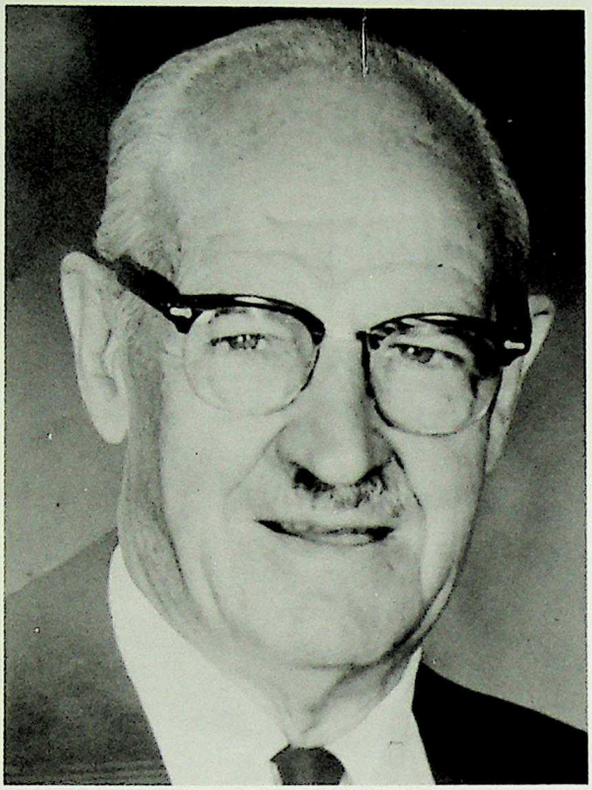
Dedication

It is with great pleasure that we, the students of the Alberta School for the Deaf, dedicate this, our third yearbook, to Mr. Macklin Youngs, who has been the busy, helpful advisor for the Black and Gold Yearbook Club.

While he was a student at Gallaudet College, he was a photo editor of the Tower Clock Yearbook. This year, he became our advisor to encourage us to complete successfully this yearbook. There would be no Yearbook at all if he had not been willing to help us.

Administration





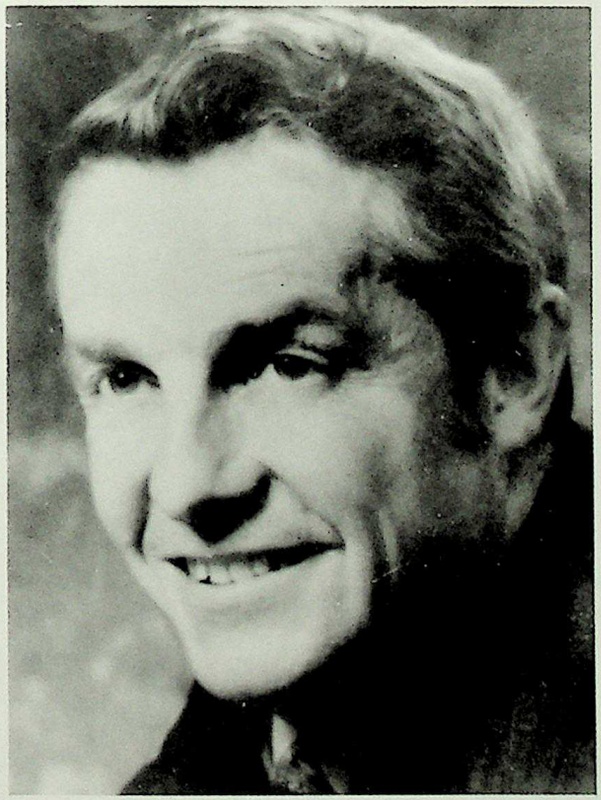
LT. GOVERNOR GRANT MACEWAN

My contacts with the Alberta School for the Deaf have pleased me greatly. I feel special admiration for people who display determination, resourcefulness and resolve in the face of handicaps. Best of all it has been great to find your people expressing themselves in many useful and finding joy and happiness in serving. May the years ahead bring members of the graduating class and all the people at the school, good health and the most priceless of all things, contentment.

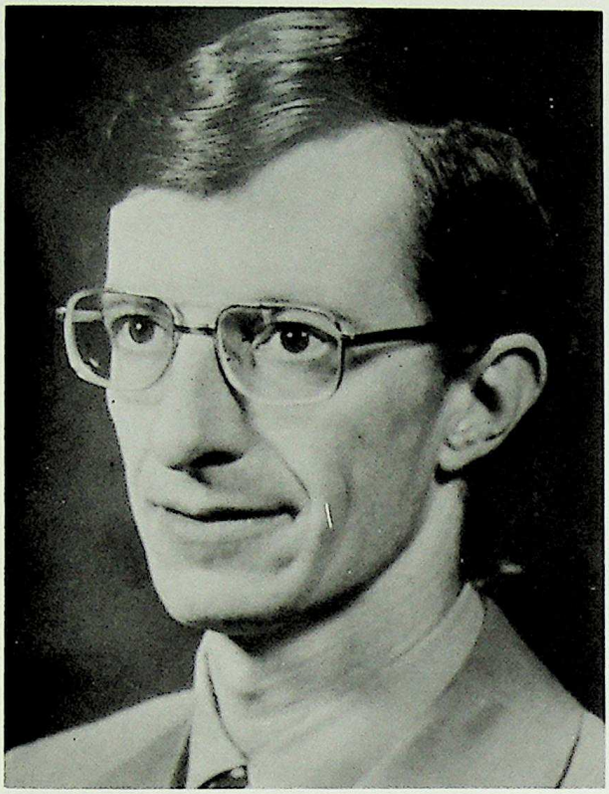
I am very pleased to have been asked to contribute to the Alberta School for the Deaf for the Deaf Yearbook.

The challenges facing people with serious hearing and speech disabilities are difficult-ones, but the students in your school can take justifiable pride in their accomplishments. I know that I speak for all Albertans when express the deep admiration that we feel for those people who are able to overcome this type of disadvantage. I also know that Albertans share this Government's interest in working towards a society which welcomes and utilizes the important talents which can be offered by deaf people.

Please accept my sincere best wishes to all students attending the School for the Deaf.



PREMIER PETER LOUGHEED

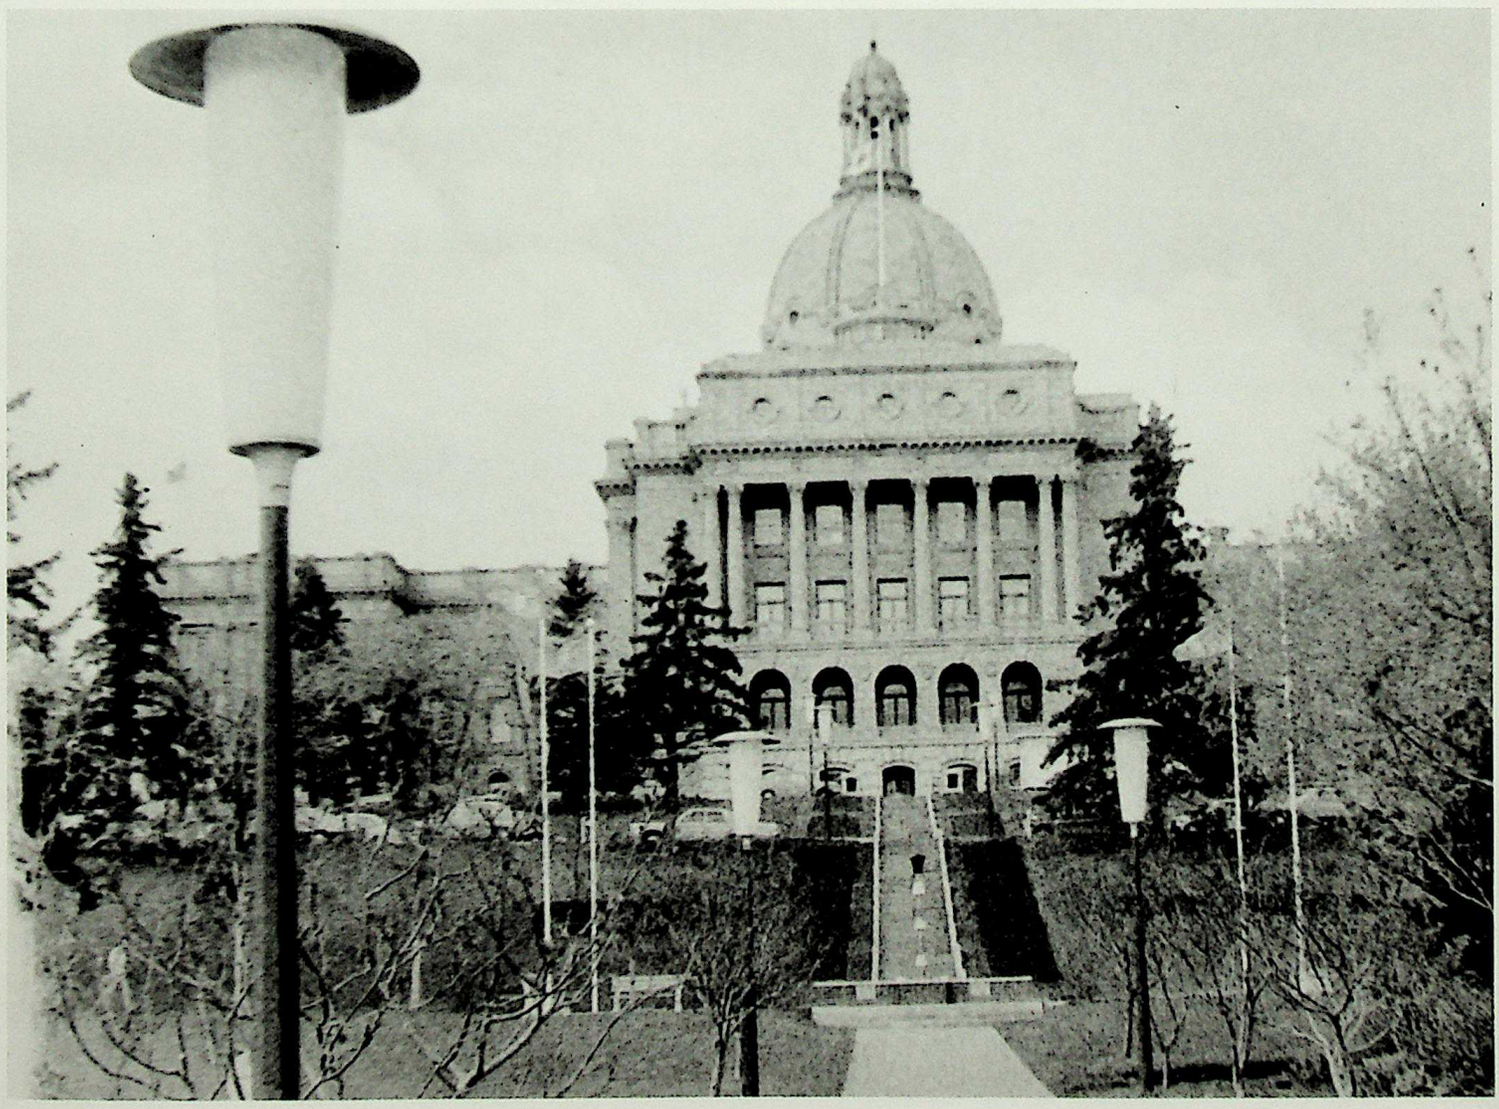


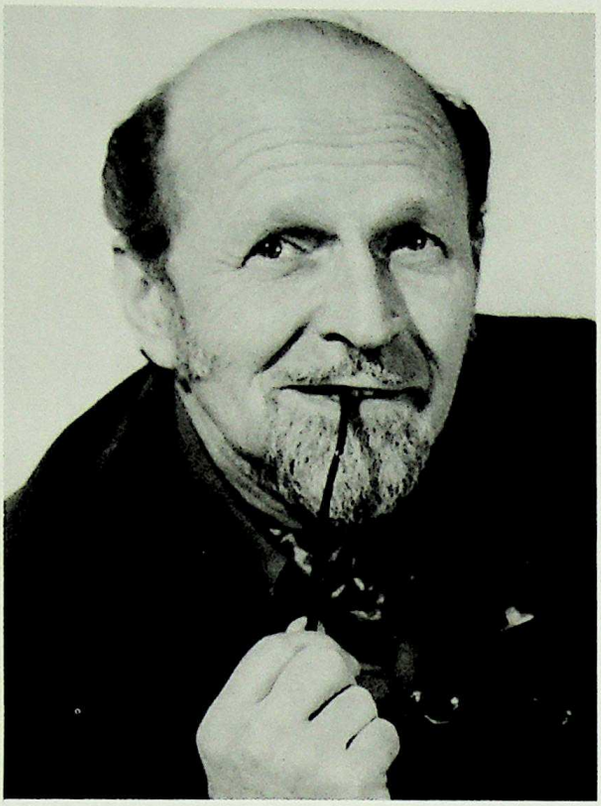
HON. LOUIS HYNDMAN,
MINISTER OF EDUCATION

Yearbooks usually signal the close of a school year and with the end of classes, students remember good times, the satisfaction of achievements and the excitement of sports events.

But today is not a time for just remembering. It is a time for looking forward--with optimism. Be prepared to build on what is good, to correct still existing injustices to counter the dehumanizing effects of our technological age and to reemphasize the basic human values.

I think you for this opportunity to contribute to your yearbook. I hope that it captures the spirit of your school, the joy of friendships and the excitement of your youthful years.





MR. P. FREEMANTLE,
ACTING SUPT. & PRINCIPAL

Year books signal the end of a year, a feeling of happy-sadness when the familiar gives way to the unfamiliar; when friendships become memories; when certainty becomes uncertainty. Running through it all is the excitement of a new adventure.

Those of you who are taking this step out into the "unknown" - whether it is into employment or further education - your fellow students and staff wish you well. We are sure you will be a credit to yourselves, your parents and the school. Good luck!

MR. ROSELL
Dean of Residence

As we come to the close of another school term, I enjoy looking back and remembering the many good things we have done over the past ten months.

We realize that it is very hard for young boys and girls to live away from their natural homes but I am proud to say that the A.S.D. students have done well in coping with hardship.

To those leaving, we bid farewell and good luck. We hope that you will take this important message with you wheresoever you might venure..."Your health is of paramount importance...not only your physical health, but also your mental peace of mind and your social health....do nothing to endanger this most cherished gift that God has given each of you."

To the students that will be returning, we wish you all a most pleasant and restful summer and hope that you will return in the autumn ready to continue learning with us.

May I close by congratulating the yearbook staff on a job well done and by wishing them even more success in the years to come.

The Senior Wing Area

This is where the older students are preparing for the future work or advanced schooling. The program in this area includes academic, prevocational, and physical education lessons. There is plenty of opportunity for development of leadership and fellowship with peers around.

There is a special program here. When a student is a around sixteen years old, he may assume half-time academic-half-time vocational status. He will spend the first or second half of each day in one of the composite high schools, taking vocational training. He will spend the other half attending classes in this school.

Some students, depending on academic potential, are allowed to retain full time academic status until they are able to pursue further studies at Gallaudet College, Alberta College or elsewhere.

There are many kinds of activities in this wing as shown elsewhere in this yearbook.

MR. CRAIG MAGILL,
LEARNING CENTRE SUPERVISOR

The Learning Centre

The Learning Centre has been in operation for four years now. From its original beginnings as a pilot project funded by a Human Resources grant with three students, it has grown to its present size with sixteen students. There are three classrooms, three teachers and three teacher assistants in the academic area and four dormitories with six houseparents and a child care attendant.

The Learning Centre was developed to be of assistance to students needing special attention. The nature of the programme is remedial as it is expected the students entering the Learning Centre will eventually be integrated into regular school programme. The children the Learning Centre has dealt with have ranged in age from five to eighteen. Not all the children live in the Learning Centre, as some only attend the academic programme.

The staff and students in the Learning Centre would like to take this opportunity to offer our congratulations to the 1974 graduation class and to this, our best wishes for their future.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF'S MESSAGE

Now, these are our last lines. As the sun goes down on our yearbook project, my dreams of setting up the 1973-74 Yearbook Club have come true. Because we never have a yearbook since 1970, I do hope that it will be continued forever.

I am pleased to thank Mr. Youngs, Mr. King, Mrs. Pederson, Mr. Carr, and Mr. Lintott (yearbook coordinator). Some of our students have never had experience with yearbook work before and have really worked hard together. My sincere thanks to you all.
